AAA - Two Spectacular Nights at the Canberra College Performing Arts Centre photos by Dayna Ransley

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Last Monday, Dr Lara Bishop (ADHS Board Chair) and I witnessed a most remarkable evening of artistic talent from within ADHS where our core values of Excellence and Community were fully on display. The Access All Areas (AAA) was held for the second year in the new Performing Arts Centre at Canberra College (CPAC) over two nights attracting over 400 community members.

The quality of the event was most impressive - smooth transitions and polished performances. The evening opened with four pieces from the Orchestra, capably conducted by two students, Emma Dunstone and Lillian Rowland. The Woden Students' Choir was stunning, drawing long applause from the audience as they sang Katy Perry's Roar. The audience were entertained by a myriad of superb displays of dance, original songs, short films, circus and 'one act' plays, all performed by more than 180 students. The standard and quality of performance was exceptional and we were delighted that The Woden School students could join for the second year.

The art and photo displays of both The Woden School and ADHS students were displayed on easels and behind new high quality Perspex (ready for presentation/graduation night). Of course, muffins, tea and coffee just made for a great conversation with parents.

This event has taken enormous effort and a great deal of planning and coordination. The entire performance was student inspired and managed, and I would especially like to acknowledge the students who made up the stage crew, and lighting and sound technicians. Further, the Arts staff must be congratulated for their hard work, commencing in early Term 3 and involving many hours of auditioning, programming, rehearsal and coordination. Rechelle Turner, Cara Irvine, Emily Appleton, Elizabeth Lorenz, Kate Waite, Marian Budos, Rhys Lintern, Penny Price and Jeanette de Smet - quality teachers providing opportunities for excellence for ACT public school students. Thank you so much.

I very much appreciated the Morning Tea and coffee provided by the Canteen staff to acknowledge the work of staff at ADHS on World Teacher's Day. The gesture was a celebration of the work of teachers, for their incredible hard work and commitment, for the quality of experiences they provide for students, and for the depth of passion they have for the work with our students. Alfred Deakin High would not be the school it is without such quality teaching and dedication. Thank you.

As we approach the end of the year, my diary fills with exciting events. This week we held two assemblies – Remembrance Day Tuesday 11th and our scheduled assembly on Wednesday 12th – the last opportunity to celebrate the endeavours of students at ADHS. The Alfie's return in Week 6. As always parents are invited to attend. Please register at the Front Office before joining the event.

A further reminder also to Year 7 2015 prospective parents (now receiving this Digest electronically) of the GAFE forum on 26th November at 5.45 – 6.45pm. This is the same evening as the Year 6/7 Disco and supper will be provided. This parent forum will introduce new parents to the online learning environment at ADHS, how students and staff coordinate their learning materials and submission of assignments; and, how parents can be a part of this through the Parent Portal accessible from our website.

Congratulations to Year 9 students Rachel Chopping and Hamish Williams who have been awarded a High Distinction Award in the International Competitions and Assessments for Schools (ICAS). Rachel and Hamish have been invited to attend the ICAS High Achievers' 'best and brightest' presentation ceremony at UNSW.

Good luck to the Elements girls who are heading down to Melbourne with Emily Appleton, Jenny Feltham, Rechelle Turner and Sarah Flynn to compete in the 15km City to Sea run on Sunday 16th November.

Finally, we are very excited to report that a refurbishment of Lab 6 will commence in mid-December. The work will involve demolishing the structures in the existing Lab, changing the orientation and reinstalling new benches, fittings and furnishings so it can be used as a multipurpose room, as well as a science laboratory. We anticipate that in the new year a number of classrooms will be repainted and a digital recording studio installed in the music learning space.

AAA

Congratulations to all the students involved in another successful AAA this year!

What an incredible two nights of Arts presented by Alfred Deakin's best and brightest stars! With our second year at the Canberra College Performing Arts Centre (CCPAC), we were again sold out on both nights. AAA is our school wide performance and exhibition evening put together by our ADHS students and the Arts Faculty. It is a talent show that features singers, dancers, actors, media and artistic works that have been made and/or presented by our very own creative students at Alfred Deakin High and The Woden School.

Leading up to the AAA Showcase, students worked hard to complete their artworks and performances in order to participate in this two-day event at the CCPAC. At ADHS we have such a high calibre of creative and talented students which was evident in the number of auditions that were held and the quality of performances over the two nights.

Walking into the CCPAC, audience members were met with the enthusiastic greetings of our front-of-house students and ushers. A phenomenal visual art exhibition curated by Ms de Smet, Ms Waite and Ms Price, displayed drawing, painting, printmaking, photography and ceramic works by UVA, Year 7 - 10 Art and 8-10 photography students and also artworks from The Woden School.

The audience entered the theatre and the intimacy of the space was soon experienced as they were led through the performances by some especially colourful MCs (Ruby Freer, Belinda Garcia, Byron Hewson and Jonah Lafferty, Benton Adams-Walker and a rabbit?!). Students from Mr Budos' Orchestra classes, Ms Irvine's UPA class, Ms Turner and Ms Appleton's Dance classes performed beautifully. There was a special performance by The Woden School; who we were proud to work with. Students ranging from Year 7 to Year 10 (all of whom had auditioned and worked very hard to prepare their own performance pieces) performed magnificent music, stunning dances, hilarious drama and even circus! Ms Lorenz's media presentations, made up of the work of students from Years 8 and 9 had us captivated and screaming for more (which we will get at The Alfies - Wednesday, Week 6).

Not only do we have a number of talented performers and artists but also a very dedicated crew. The show ran smoothly and that was due to the tireless work behind the scenes by the dedicated and focused crew, also comprised of students. They helped to install artworks, support artist's requirements, assist during performances, ran the lighting, sound, stage set-up, backstage, dressing rooms, curtains and they demonstrated great professionalism, excellent problem-solving and teamwork under the guidance of Klara Johanssen-Cranfield who worked alongside one of our ex-Deakin students, Craig Dear.

The professional and smooth running of the event is a credit to the students involved. So, I would like to say well done to all our performers, artists, crew, front-of-house, ushers and the Arts Faculty for an AMAZING two nights! Thank you for the experience, energy and talent that our students and teachers at ADHS offered the developmental environment of our AAA show.

Hi all, my name is Crtomir Kores and I was the trip coordinator for the 2014 Alfred Deakin High School Canberra to Darwin trip. It has fallen upon me to write up an account of the trip, so I will present it from a teacher's point of view.

Our coach driver Pat and the company cook, Tabitha, (Tabby) met us at the school early on Sunday morning. All students were present on time and seemed to be in good spirits. This first day would be a short day of travelling as we would only drive to Hay.

It was at Hay that I gained my first inkling of the calibre of students we had on the trip. Due to an early start the following morning, I went to bed expecting to have to deal with complaints regarding the 4.30 wake up. Instead I witnessed the Year 9 and 10 students getting up and packing their tents and gear away with such enthusiasm that the temperature, which had to be at least 50 degrees below zero, did not even faze them. We actually departed 30 min ahead of schedule.

My second inkling occurred the following night at Spear Creek Station. The evening was warm and the students, still full of energy after an 11-hour day, obviously could not fall asleep at the 10pm curfew that the caravan park management requested.

We suggested that they could talk quietly at the fire but instead, many asked if they could walk down the station track which was located over a rise and talk there so they did not disturb other guests. I ended up walking with them (to keep an eye out for snakes) and we had insightful conversations revolving around current affairs, space and astronomy and what could be expected from the trip ahead.

The following morning saw us on the road again heading towards Port Augusta where we had to re-provision for the days ahead. After a relaxing lunch we headed towards Woomera where the first of the staff gags began to be played out.

Woomera looked to be deserted during the heat of the day. In fact, the only vehicle we saw was another tourist having lunch. Upon being queried as to why there were no people about we informed them in a serious voice that Woomera was a town steeped in military tradition and because of the ongoing military activities and the secrecy act any locals seen to be talking to tourists can be shot. I even pointed out the cannon (WW2) that happened to be pointed in our direction. I still have no idea how many believed us. Score 1 for the teachers.

Cooper Pedy was a welcome end to another long day and, after an insightful visit to an underground home and church, we visited an opal jewellery shop where a demonstration of opal cutting and polishing was presented.

Dinner that night was at Joe's Pizza on the main street. We ordered 18 pizzas for 40 starving kids and 6 staff. I normally only have two slices but this night I could not resist their taste and polished off seven slices. Little did I know that this was on the lower end of the scale compared to the effort done by the students.

After all were sated we packed the rest into doggy bags and headed home to several hours of underground amateur wrestling and handball. Bed time happened at 0100 hours, with rise and shine set for 0500. Ziggy and I got the students up and dressing at 0420 by telling them that it was 0500 by South Australian time. Score No 2 for the teachers.

The following morning we stopped just north of Cooper Pedy so that Ziggy (a staff member) and I could drag a dead roo past the bus windows towards the back of the bus where the fridge and trailer were located. This was done in-order to set the students up for another gag to be played out later that week. Naturally, when asked why the dead roo, we replied that that was to be our road kill dinner.

Arriving at Uluru camp ground was a welcome relief after the heat of the day. Most of us used this opportunity to wash our dirty clothes before, as they say, 'up and walked away' and then spent time at the pool relaxing. Dinner was yet another lovely meal cooked up by Tabby much to the disappointment of some of the students who wanted to have the road kill dinner. We patiently explained that the roo needed skinning and preparation so we could not eat it that night.

The following day saw us visiting the "rock". It is hard to explain the grandeur and size of the monolith and my words could not do it justice. Once the indigenous rangers opened the track up the rock to visitors some of the students climbed up to the top. I would like to mention a massive effort by Lachlan and his friends which saw him successfully complete the climb in 4.5 hours. They received a standing ovation by the rest of the students when they got back down.

That night we slept out in the open at Kings Canyon Station in order to fall asleep looking at the desert night sky. Some of the boys decided to chase the local dingo away and began to run after it. The sight was one of the funniest things I have ever seen. The dingo trotting through the tall grass seemingly without a care in the world, and the boys bounding after it like gazelles on the African Savannah.

Kings Canyon is a beautiful wild place to visit. The rim walk is difficult if not prepared due to the heat but, with plenty of water and sunscreen, the students were able to see fossilised animal tracks and the patterns of million year old sand dunes.

Some of the boys used this opportunity to dress up in costume and re-enact the movie Priscilla. The best part of the re-enactment was the bemused looks on the faces of other walkers just coming around the corner of the track and seeing them in dresses posing on a pinnacle of rock.

The next two days were spent at Alice Springs where we visited the School of the Air, The Royal Flying Doctors and the old Telegraph station. It made us aware of the hardships that the early explorers and families endured in order to settle this region. It was here that the final chapter of the road-kill dinner unfolded. Tabby prepared a lovely roast beef dinner for all and smothered it in delicious gravy so that the students could not recognise the meat. We then convinced them that they were eating the road-kill roo. I just hope that no parents were asked to prepare this dish at home after we returned as many thought it tasted very nice.

Whilst at camp I received comments from the other campers on how well behaved the students were at the play grounds where they included small children in their games.

After Alice Springs we headed up north towards Tennant Creek where we visited the mining museum. This experience is highly recommended even though some of the students complained that the air-conditioning was set too low in the artefact room. It was set at 28 degrees!

From Tennant Creek we headed towards Katherine via Mataranka Hot springs. These were enjoyed by all especially as the local wildlife (tree snakes and wallabies) were present. We spent a relaxing few hours there with the bonus of finally having the stain of the red dust washed off our skin.

Katherine made us aware of how little time we had left on this trip. It also presented us with the opportunity to “discover” rock art located at the base of the gorge at our own leisure. The stories told by the Indigenous guides made the art come to life and allowed us to experience what life must have been like thousands of years ago.

From Katherine we headed north-east towards Kakadu where we would spend some time immersing ourselves in the history and culture of the region. We were able to visit rock art sites and have a relaxing walk in the scorching breezeless midday heat around a drying billabong frequented by flies, birds and the odd feral pig. I was impressed by the efforts of all the students as they accommodated the wishes of some. It was a case of one for all and all for one.

Once again at Kakadu camp ground I received comments from the staff and others on the excellent behaviour of our students. Apparently, whilst at the shop, the computer system went offline and our students invited other visitors to proceed ahead of them with their purchases despite being first in line. The staff commented on how nice it is to see young people that are well brought up.

Our last day was spent in Darwin visiting the Mindil beach markets. Most used this opportunity to purchase the required gifts and mementoes. From Darwin we flew back to Sydney and yet again I received comments from passengers (retired teachers) on how well the students were behaved.

In parting, I would like to say that this group of students have been by far the best group I have ever had the pleasure to accompany. The way they behaved, met and overcome each obstacle is a credit to their families and the school atmosphere.

Post Japan Trip 2014 Party (えんかい)

On Monday, 3rd November, 28 Japan Trippers and their parents celebrated the success of the Japan Trip 2014. A big thank you goes to all the parents who supported their children to make this Japan Trip 2014 come true. Without their enormous support and help, it would not have happened. On behalf of Richard Fox, Cameron Foster and Ingrid Jaugietis, I would like to express our gratitude and appreciation. At the party, every student was awarded for being beautiful, fun and responsible.

Success of Our Ex-students at ANU Secondary College 2014

Six of our ex-students, Demi Nolan, Ellie Ahn, Soy Kim, Mae Farrer, Kyle McKenzie and Anna Burns, have had wonderful success at ANU Secondary College graduating with stunning course scores. They all received an early offer from ANU. Well done! I am very proud of all these students, particularly, Demi Nolan and Ellie Ahn who topped the Advanced and Continuing Japanese cohort respectively. Congratulations!

Canberra-Nara Candle Night Festival 2014

The annual Candle Night Festival was held on Saturday, 25th October. This year, we commemorated the 21st year of the sister relationship with Nara. The weather was fantastic and over 3000 Canberrans gathered in Nara Park and shared experiences. Gus Haddad, Year 9, performed Aikido and Iaido in the martial art area on the day and his performance was breath-taking. Let's hope he can demonstrate again for us in an assembly soon.

Year 7 Zoo Excursion

On Monday 3rd November, 48 excited Japanese students went on an excursion to the National Zoo and Aquarium. Students have been working on animals and their feeding habits and this was a perfect excursion to confirm their knowledge in a fun way. The weather was excellent and it was another success. A big “thank-you” goes to seven parents and a sibling who kindly accompanied small groups to support the program. Without their help, this fun excursion would not have happened. They are: Mrs Finley, Mrs McKinnon, Mrs Stokes, Mrs Culham and Miss Keely Wilkinson.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Work Experience at Flipside Circus in Brisbane.

Benton Adams-Walker trains with Warehouse Circus and is an Assistant Trainer. Recently he spent a week doing Work Experience alongside staff working with a range of troupes, including the performance troupe.

It was one of the greatest weeks of his life.

“ During the week I was lucky enough to also spend a day with Circa Zoo. I was pushed out of my comfort zone with an hour of ballet and around four hours doing contortion and strength. With Flipside I got to help out with a Red Hill Special School performance called Defying Gravity. It was a beautiful show which allowed kids with severe disabilities to perform circus. The highlight was seeing the impact on a wheelchair bound boy when he took to the air in a harness and flew through the air.”

Benton was billeted with a family in Brisbane and is keen to make a career in circus.

Year 10 Transition Visit to Canberra College

Last week a group of students attended Canberra College to assist in their transition to college. It was an informal day, with activities that included: “Breaking the Ice” where students met and mingled with other High Schools, “Speed Dating” where students met key staff members and a session with the Resident Magician who delighted us with his circus tricks. There was also a serious side for the students as they toured the college and heard from the Student Services Team about such issues as: How to Get Prepared for College, How to be successful at College and College Life. The students involved found it an informative and friendly day with the added bonus of delicious food!

THE NATIONAL DISABILITY INSURANCE AGENCY (NDIA)

School age children will transition to the NDIS during the 2015 school year. High school students (7-12) will transition between January and March 2015. Children in primary school (K-6) will transition between April and September 2015. Transition will be from youngest to oldest.

The National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) is currently contacting families of high school students accessing Disability Education programs to inform them that they will be phasing to the NDIS from January and that they will be sending out Access Request Packs. Families unsure about whether the scheme is appropriate for them are encouraged to speak with the school Disability Education Coordinator for support in understanding how this may fit with their current supports including personal care supports and transport.

HOSPITALITY: MELBOURNE CUP BUFFET LUNCHEON

YEAR 10

On Tuesday, 4th November, the 9/10 Hospitality class spent the day cooking sumptuous dishes for our paying guests (ADHS Admin staff and teachers).

Previously, students had decided upon their menus and food as each cooking bay was required to make a starter; a salad; a meat/ vegetarian dish; and a dessert or pastry/cake.

They decorated the classroom and hallway with roses, streamers and balloons; all adding to the spring time theme.

As you can see from the photos, the class indeed showed that it was very capable of catering for a large event at a high standard.

Well done to our Hospitality chefs and thank you to all staff who attended to support our catering project.

As the countdown begins to our Year 10's graduating, I will take this time to remind students what our expectations are of them in the final four weeks of school. Student's assessment will be completed by the end of Week 6 so they only have two weeks to complete and hand in their final high school assessments. Year 10 students are expected to attend school through to their final day, Wednesday 3rd December. Students are expected to continue to behave appropriately and are reminded that, to receive their Year 10 certificate, they must meet the Education and Training's Directorate's academic, behavioural and attendance guidelines.

In Week 7 students will be able to check their grade results. If they have any concerns they can have their results re-checked.

The following important dates refer to the big events of the year for Year 10. If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me by email james.love@ed.act.edu.au or by phone 6142 3900.

*If we receive over 100 orders/payment for the polo shirts, there will be a "lucky draw prize" where 5 polo purchasers will have the opportunity to have the cost of their polo shirts refunded 😊
The draw will occur after the final date of payment (Fri 21 Nov) so everyone gets a fair chance to win.*

If you require further details, please see or ask Ingrid Jaugietis - Yr 9 Advisor.

ALFIES

FILM FASHION PHOTOGRAPHY

WEDNESDAY 19 NOVEMBER 2014

A large gold film reel is the central focus, standing upright on a wooden base. The reel has several circular holes and the words "AUTO REEL" embossed on it. In front of the reel, a black camera lens with a green ring is visible. To the left of the lens, a high-heeled shoe with a red-to-orange gradient and a gold platform is positioned. The shoe has a small green and white floral decoration on the toe. The entire scene is set against a plain white background.
